About Us

A Legacy of Quality and Commitment

Where We Started

Some of my earliest memories come from sitting beside the road with my aunts and grandmother, selling baskets of fresh produce picked that same morning from our grandparents' farm. I remember the friends and neighbors who stopped by — each person examining the corn or tomatoes with anticipation, trust, and familiarity. Even then, I understood that people valued not just the food, but the care behind it.

What We Learned

Those early days taught me simple but lasting principles: provide excellent products, treat people with honesty, and repeat that commitment day after day. Over the years, the world has changed — ships, railcars, and trucks now move food across continents — but the values learned on the farm have remained the foundation of our work.

How We Serve You Today

At One Source Food Solutions, we continue that legacy. We partner with trusted growers and processors to bring nature's best to your family, your restaurant, your products, and your brand. The same values that once motivated farmers to rise early, work hard, and tend their crops with care are the values that drive us today: quality, integrity, and dedication to our partners.

We take pride in delivering safe, nutritious, and reliable ingredients — and in seeing the satisfaction they bring to others. Because in the end, it truly is “the sum of small efforts, repeated day in and day out,” that makes the difference.

Vegetables

Benefits of Ready To Eat (RTE)

Ready To Eat Individually Quick Frozen Fruits and Vegetables offer the food industry an ideal combination of safety, convenience, and consistent quality.

Ready-To-Eat (RTE)

Frozen within hours of harvest ensures nutrition and consistency. Vegetables can go directly from the freezer to the application.

Reduced Moisture (RM)

Our innovative process minimizes water loss in freshly harvested vegetables, producing IQF products with higher solids content and an increased number of pieces per pound.

Custom Blends

Create blends with our wide selection of two or more RTE vegetables, adding improved variety, vibrant color, and taste.

Fire Roasted

Upgrade any dish without added ingredients. Fire Roasted vegetables provide a roasted flavor with a classic char appearance and color for your signature menu items.

Advanced thermal treatments ensure all products meet microbiological standards, allowing them to be incorporated directly into formulations without additional cooking or kill steps.
